Anamarija Lampič will not compete in Planica

This week sees the start of the BMW IBU World Championships Biathlon 2023 in Oberhof, Germany, that will be held from 8 to 19 February 2023. At the venue for the WCH is already Anamarija Lampič, who only joined the national biathlon team this season, but whose excellent results have already secured her a place in the team to compete at the Championships already in her debut year among biathlon's elite.

Anamarija's goal this season is mainly to learn and gain experience in her new sport discipline - biathlon, to which she has been fully committed since last Spring.

"My wish is to become a top biathlete and that is why I focus all my thoughts and energy on biathlon. I am already at the venue of my first IBU World Championships Biathlon, which I am really looking forward to and will be my only World Championships this year. I will therefore not be competing at the FIS Nordic World Ski Championships in Planica.

I would like to thank the Ski Association of Slovenia and the cross-country skiing federation for all the support you have given me over the years of my sporting career in this wonderful sport. It has been a great pleasure and honour to represent the colours of the Slovenian national cross-country team. At the same time, I am looking forward to working with you again, now in a new discipline."

Ski Association of Slovenia with cross-country skiing and biathlon federation fully supports Anamarija Lampič's decision and looks forward to her continued sporting success.
